

Cookies on airport.wroclaw.pl

We use cookies across our website to improve its performance and enhance the users experience.

Cookies are stored on the users' computer, notebook or smartphone and are used for the following purposes:

- to save the language version of the website they are browsing (Polish or English version);
- to save the layout version of the website (full version or mobile version);
- for statistical or analitical purposes (information concerning the browser, operational system, screen's resolution etc.)

We do not use cookies to identify the users. Cookies just facilitate using our website www.airport.wroclaw.pl and make it easier to adjust the website to the users' expectations.

So as not to save cookies on your device you should change the settings in options of the web browser you are using for visiting our website www.airport.wroclaw.pl or change the settings of the device you are using but in some cases, this may impact your ability to use our website.